SCAA ART SCHOLARSHIP AWARD WINNERS SAN CLEMENTE HIGH SCHOOL - April 2015

Scholarship awards ($1,000 checks) will be presented to the students at the "Paint San Clemente Gala" on June 20th.

A portion of the proceeds acquired from Paint San Clemente creates an annual account that funds student scholarships. The award of these scholarships represents an important part of the mission of the SCAA, to support young artists and arts education in the community.

The students and their parents will be receiving an invitation to the ceremony.

STEPHANIE DOREY FAMILY ART SCHOLARSHIP

Jocelyn Hales -- Photography

It all began with a Christmas gift of a Polaroid camera, that led to Mrs. Macks Film Photography class in high school, the first photo class she had ever taken. Then digital photo and Yearbook classes followed. She has demonstrated advanced organizational skills, artistry and leadership which resulted in her selection first as head photographer as editor-in chief of this year's yearbook. Her teacher describes her as "motivated, creative, tremendous work ethic, and hands-on." She has worked at a variety of jobs outside of school to help contribute to her family's finances. She also volunteers her time throughout the year as a counselor to Kids at Cancer Camp. Portraiture is Jocelyn's favorite subject. She has her eye on being a photojournalist, perhaps with National Geographic in order to raise awareness concerning social issues that she witnesses first hand, then conveys her viewpoint with her camera. She wants to help people by building bridges of understanding between them, through her lens. To be able to travel to do this, she will first seek a position as a flight attendant. Her educational plan is to attend Cal State Fullerton for a degree in Intercultural Communications and a minor in Photography, and perhaps attend graduate school in Photography.

Katernina Bentzen --Ceramics, Drawing

Katerina has been involved in the arts since she was a child, and experimentation with different media has always been a part of her way of working and understanding her world. Drawing was her main medium. She sees the arts as a way to help people express themselves to one another. Drawing the figure, and being able to use her imagination to place it in different situations is her current interest. Storytelling through pencil, ink and water-color is what one sees in leafing through her sketchbooks. Kat is also interested in drawing figures from life, and is increasing her knowledge of anatomy. Her ceramic work is as creative as her drawings. Cosmetology is also an interest, and she wants to pursue that in Paul Mitchell cosmetology school directly after her graduation from high school. Ultimately she wants to attend art school.

Finally, her dream is to open an art center where people come to practice art, and experience healing in a non-judgmental environment.

Corey Stafford –Photography

Corey has always been interested in creating, coming to photography upon discovering her parents' camera. At 16, Corey saved up for her own camera, and has been shooting everything with it since then. Her sister, who is currently studying at Cal Arts to be a character animator, has been her primary influence, and challenges Corey to continually improve.

Corey has very much enjoyed her photography class, which has opened up her eyes to her surroundings. She admires the work of Ansel Adams, his ability to capture light and detail in his images. That quality of artistry she would like to attain in her own work someday as a graphic designer/photographer, working in fashion, designing blogs, and traveling. Corey would like to attend Portland State University in Oregon, intending to study graphic design for her Bachelor of Arts degree. She describes herself as hard-working, independent, self-aware, creative, and excited about creativity in her future.

Sabrina Laub –Drawing and Painting

Sabrina's father is in the military—consequently, her family has moved across the United States from base to base, and Sabrina has had to deal with the challenges of leaving friends, assimilating into student groups in new schools, and adapting to new environments. In the absence of her father, her art has been a way not only to entertain herself, but to explore her feelings and express her creativity.

Sabrina sees college as a way to gain independence, and as an avenue to independence and an opportunity to define her identity. She appreciates the nomination by her drawing instructor, David Luciani, for this scholarship, and any support that the Association may provide.

Allie May – Drawing/Painting

Throughout my life, as far as I can remember; I have always been told I have a natural talent for art. I believe the point in time when I actually became “interested”, is when I actually started to believe that I might have a talent. As my passion grew, so did my interest in other mediums. I try my best to master every kind of medium. Thanks to my parents, I took a multitude of summer classes that helped expand my knowledge and experience different techniques. Other than what I learned in the summer classes, everything else I’ve learned is self taught.

One of my favorite mediums right now is oil paints. I remember being so afraid of them thinking they were so terrible, but this year I was like, “I think I am just going to try it.” I got a small set and now am completely in love. I love how they are so thick, and don’t dry as fast as acrylic paints. My favorite thing to paint are portraits.

In ten years, I would like to be teaching art, maybe a high school class. I would like to relive these days of art class when I am older. There is nothing better, in my opinion, than doing art with your best friends. It is one of my favorite things about art classes, creating beautiful pieces of art with your “art family”. I would also like to create a business out of art - like commissions. I would love to have a studio as well. I would expand my artistic talent and complete the amount of school to become a teacher. I am also interested in working in graphic design.

In this one school year, I have accomplished so much more than I ever thought I could. I have gained so much in the art field so far. I won first place in both the Casa Romantica, and the Cinco de Mayo competition. I believe that this scholarship is really just the cherry on top. Receiving this scholarship will help me gain confidence and help me obtain greater dreams.

Member Needs Help

(Meghann Bell Nelsen is a member of SCAA and a fantastic artist, she needs help! Thanks)

I am embarking on a new chapter in my life and I could use your help.

I do not know if you knew the complexity of my eye condition. I was born with cataracts and at 1 week old had surgery to remove them. I have worn contacts for 30 years, but my eyes have since become intolerant of contacts. I am scheduled for surgery on my right eye April 29th and have set-up a GoFundMe account online to help pay for the complicated procedures and recovery time.

Can you please share this link with your entire social network and SCAA email contacts?

Thank You so much!!!
